

Billy Squier

"On Your Own"

Visit "On Your Own" on MotoLyrics.com

In every heart there comes a time
You find yourself, you speak your mind
On your own

No man can lead two separate lives
One castle keep, one will decide
It's not right

For every heart there burns a flame
To light the soul and make you one again
Song text taken from stlyrics.com
In every heart there looms a voice
We'll have our day, oh yeah

I lived a lie bound from my birth
I need to find what life is worth
It's not mine
Oh secret soul that burns inside
No forced control can make you hide
Open wide

A restless heart who needs a friend
To free my soul and make me one again
Within my heart I found a voice
I'll have my say

For every heary there burns a flame
To light the soul and make you one again
In every heary there looms a voice
We'll have our day
In every heart there booms a voice

Visit Billy Squier page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.