It's not over til it's over...it's not over til the end
It's not over til it's over...so we struggle to pretend

Hesitation makes you over...we all walk in our own way Shadows deepen when it's over...through the summer of longer days

Cast in the call of a million smiles blown away
Everytime you fall it's a thousand times torn away
Castles built to fall with the sands of time wash away

No escapin' til it's over...friends will say it's not the same Memories falter when it's over...some are lost and some remain Someone take me when it's over...set a lantern by the door
Can't forget you...but I can't hold on...toss the anchor from off the shore

Cast in the call of a million smiles blown away
Everytime you fall it's a thousand times torn away
Castles built to fall with the sands of time wash away
Castles built to fall with the sands of time wash away

...Will the moment come again I still love you when it's over...I still want you to come again
