I declared a war against myself. Yes, It's completely absurd
I'm among six million eyes that watch my steps

From outer constellations, a new light arrived.
A new place to stay alone and count the stars.
A Place so far from the sound of the beasts,
I'll pull the trigger to scream to the seas.
Yes, I can: This is a Declaration.

I'm among six million stars, that watch my steps.
Everything is perfect but the way you look at me.
I'm among six million stars, that watch my steps.
Everything is perfect but the way you look at me, no no no.

And here they are, they're here again: Dancing in my spine.
I thought I kill 'em from years before. Before (x2)
I thought I kill 'em from years before, before.
This long story someday has to end.

I'm among six million stars, that watch my steps.
Everything is perfect but the way you look at me.
So, can you give me a cure? Can you give me a ray of light?
Carry me to this place.

Calm me down, I can't Breath. I can't Breath.
Every night I have this dream, I have this curse.
Help me to be free, help me to set free.

I have to find another way to survive, I'm alive.
I can come back home tonight. Tonight, tonight.
I can come back home tonight.

Calm me down, I can't Breath.
Every night I have this dream, help me to set free.

I'm among six million stars, that watch my steps.
Everything is perfect but the way you look at me.
(Everything is perfect, Everything is perfect)

Everything is perfect, Everything is perfect oh.
Everything is perfect but the way you look at me,
But the way you look at me.
But the way you look at me.
