When I fall asleep it could be forever
So I'll never fall asleep again
When I fall apart, put me back together
And my life will be complete
Maybe it's tonight, maybe tomorrow night, next week
Next month, next year - we've only time to fear
When I fall behind in the quest for pleasure
I shall treasure this short time with you
We shall not be chained, we shall not be tethered
And we'll never be unkind

Maybe it's tonight, maybe tomorrow night, next week
Next month, next year - we've only time to fear
If I fall in love it could be forever
So I'll never fall in love
But the moment I can feel that you feel that way too
Is when I might fall in love with you
