You should know by now We all learn and how
We all get through somehow
It's the natural thing that Should be understood

If you think that loves is for good
I tell you I'm the one who misunderstood
If you think that love is for real
You're gonna need a heart of steel
You're gonna need a heart of steel

We all make mistakes We should have what it takes To get through all the heartaches
It's the natural thing that should be understood
understood understood

If you think that loves is for good
I tell you I'm the one who misunderstood
If you think that love is for real
You're gonna need a heart of steel

You're gonna need a heart of steel
That's for real, that's for real

Since you've been gone If feel that my hear t can't carry on
Since your goodbye I thought I would just lay down & die

You better dry your eyes You should've realised
But who am I to criticise
It's the natural thing That should be understood
It's the natural thing that should be understood
understood understood

If you think that loves is for good
I tell you I'm the one who misunderstood
If you think that love is for real
You're gonna need a heart of steel
