Got love the identity, it keeps you well displaced
Far away from the flame
Moving in turns the TV on
These episodes I've made
It's time to make the channels change

Hello me, how have you been my friend
Thought I lost you there
Hello me, it feels so good to see
That your still here, Hello me

It's been a long, long time it seems
I've filled up all my space
With reasons making it ok
It's a question of giving in, how much can I take?
A phone call saves us from this state
