Pushing time and space aside
Across the universe together
Through tomorrow to forever
The ships fly on and on

Down in corridors of light
To their final destination
The sands throughout creation
And the kingdoms of the sun

Not one soul has stayed behind
Just the traces of mankind
Nothing that really matters
In one earth day they had gone
To the earth to mend alone
Thats all that really matters now

Down in corridors of light
To their final destination
The sands throughout creation
And the kingdoms of the sun

Not one soul has stayed behind
Just the traces of mankind
Nothing that really matters
With the children of the sun
The earth is now as one
Thats all that really matters

Not one soul has stayed behind
Just the traces of mankind
Nothing that really matters

Not one soul has stayed behind
Just the traces of mankind
Nothing that really matters

No more gravity
Nothing holding them down
No more gravity
Nothing holding them down
