wake up in the morning light Since I'm already dying why can't we just simplify our lazy troubled times?

I'm done
there's nothing left
nothing left
to lose

if government can't keep you safe and your need is to feel better when arguments are closed square you're the one to care brake me every single bones your words are just like knife please keep me paralyzed Since I don't want to lie my love

to lose

you're the one I bear the cuts you've done in my back now, they're all alive, They will not leave me alone, they are bleeding just because you're gone now I can't keep my feelings safe your letter is still there, unread

and you need is to feel better when arguments are closed square
