"Optimist"

I never asked for anyone to listen, and I never asked for anyone to take my words to heart.
I've let myself become a target based on nothing more than expression.
I will not lie to others, and I won't lie to myself.
If you're searching for safety you can find it
somewhere else,
and I won't mind. I've never seen myself as optimistic,
so this should come as no surprise.
No one feels good forever. Not even me.
But this doesn't give us an excuse to allow ourselves
to become useless like the rest.
We will turn our hatred into something to be proud of.
We will make life worth living.
