(Billy Walker)

Oh, I wish I could love that much again
And have the same old burning deep within
Oh, I wouldn't care if I'd lose or win
I just wish I could love that much again.

I've only loved one time and that was long ago
I've thought that she was mine but then she hurt me so
I cried so very long then no more would fall
And when the pain was gone I had no heart at all.

But I wish I could love that much again
And have the faith in life that I had been
No matter what the price was in the end
I just wish I could love that much again.

I just wish I could love that much again...
