Is this sounding right, can you hear this music?
Do you really think love is gonna change the world?
Is this feeling right, can you hear this music?
Do you really think we are gonna change the world?
Our time is short and we can't even see the clocks
we're missing
Our lives are lost we won't even care until it's over

Go and find that distant tone and Say what you've been trying to say
'Cause the voice is ghostly but you can find it
The voice is ghostly and you can find it
Or you can walk away

Is this sounding right can you hear the music?
Do you really think love is gonna change the world?
Is this feeling right can you feel this music?
Do you really think we are gonna change the world

There's more to find more than life and love and conversation
We can't hide behind the stained glass window of a high class nation

Let's get right or something, let's get this right
We're loosing time and fading, we're loosing time

Stop the music, stop the trend, start the worship
Stop the band
