Population control. neither did they relish the possible consequences of an enraged public upon discovering that they were being systematically murdered. no one wanted to pick people out of a crowd and line them up for execution, The only alternative left was to increase the death rate, Something else had to be done that would absolve the decision-makers of guilt, A very short but very deadly global war was contemplated. something that could be blamed upon Mother Nature. an agent that does not naturally exist The answer, a synthetic biological agent, for which no natural immunity could have been acquired. The United States population was infected. The vaccine was administered by the world health organization. Take a look around and feel the wind blow Whatever causes AIDS was in the vaccine?
> I'm the first in line with a sentence on deathrow And to those motherfuckers who decide our fate Annihilate, come together and kill their hate Cut their heads off and put 'em on a stake Stuff their bodies in a barrel and throw 'em in the lake Let the leaches feast on their own Motherfucker your wrong, your on your own Chorus: We all go to fight for our rights Stand against those opposed We all go to fight for our rights Population Control (x2)
