"Each Day"

Each day I have another chance
To try and make things right
I awake from the nightmare
Another day closer to the grave and my fright is In moderation with a personal affair
It just might be the death of me
I am aware

I'm not worried about tomorrow
I give a fuck about yesterday
To get through this day of sorrow
I must face what comes my way

Each night I need some kind of release
To pull the trigger on my soul
Breathe through the bullet hole
I need some peace before I am deceased
I want to see my world in it's negative state
Became a positive place while unleashing all the hate within

I'm not worried about tomorrow
Don't give a fuck about yesterday
To get through this day of sorrow
I must face what comes my way
Every fuckin' day

I'm not worried about tomorrow
Don't give a fuck about yesterday
To get through this day of sorrow
I must face what comes my way

Every fuckin' day
