life is hard, believe me i know it's true always fighting back the pain, i'm breaking through i'll never give up, my heart remains true it's all i can do recognize the pain that lies inside it's always looking for somewhere else to hide your soul is empty, your mind is terrorized and full of lies

and i gotta take myself away i gotta break myself away from you and your disease, it's killing me i remember how it felt to be alone you would run away, you're never coming home bloody knuckles and so many broken bones now you're alone it's so hard to feel you're part of me i know deep inside you never meant to be someone who would hurt his family how can it be

please i'm so mad inside, i hope you'll forgive me
'cause i gotta let you know what's inside of me please i'm so scared inside, i hope you'll forgive me
'cause i gotta let you know what's inside of me

it's killing me, it's killing me
