She don't owe you nothing
She don't have to listen to anything you say
I warned you two, maybe three or more
I warned you to bite your tongue and save it for the grave.

Come on

Kick the cat out and hang up your high heels
Show me magic and spells unknown
With your potions, show me some good love my white witch.

She won't cost you a penny
She won't cost you any hair of a dog or its tail.
So don't you try to be funny, no
Don't you try to do any thing to change her ways, yeah
You won't do that, no, not again
You won't do that 'cause this crazy girl is sure to say
A little charm to rule the day.

Come on

Kick the cat out and hang up your high heels
Show me magic and spells unknown
With your potions, show me some good love my white
witch

Get back, that same old look in your eye
Get back, 'cause I'm not into it.

Get back, that same old look in your eye
Get back, 'cause I'm not into it.
