"Key To My Castle"

The first time I saw you It seemed to be an ordinary day In my mind painting pictures of where it's going to lead us to someday Take my time, be patient take the pictures off the wall For this moment I'll stay hypnotized with you no need to call

tell me could this be another hopeless try to give it up to you tell me if I'm wrong
to see a miracle come true
You hold the key to my castle in your hand, Just try to open the door to understand [x2]

You keep me up waiting days go by and still I'm not afraid there's some unaccountable reasons time slowly seems to fade take your time, be patient take my gestures are for real this very moment is your choice to clarify your deal

tell me could this be another
hopeless try to give it up to you
tell me if I'm wrong
to see a miracle come true
You hold the key to my castle in your hand, Just try to open the door to understand.
You hold the key to my castle in your hand,
Just try to open up your mind and understand

and understand

You found the reason for love inside this, place I have found... if you dare, if you follow me.

You hold the key to my castle in your hand.

You hold the key to my castle in your hand,
just try to open up your mind and understand,
and understand.

And understand...
