Nightshades
They only fade to grey

And hurricanes
Always blow themselves away

You say it's nothing but a passing shadow
Just shower dark skies coming at you
Got no time
You're a stranger now

Time passed you thought you had a way to go
Out there thinking back now you're on your own
But empty roads sometimes lead to nowhere don't you know

Can't you see I just fall to pieces
And everything goes out of sequence
Blown away
Oh, like dust in the rain

Don't you know I just tried to leave it
Behind but I was stuck on believin'
Such a shame

But I can't know why I, the pieces always fall this way
