You gave away
the one thing you held dear, It just won't stop
the ringing in your ear,
And through the glass
you're world is hazy
The thirst has gone
you're going crazy,

you're too far gone

I promised you
ya know it was a lie,
I couldn't save you
if I tried,
your scars they cut
way to deep,
So now I'll put
this lonely love to sleep,

Too far gone
You'll waste away in Babylon

At the time you couldn't see that no one beats gravity
