What if the world splits into two
Would you lie in the fracture, or look for the glue?
What if the bomb drops out of the sky
Would you watch the explosion, or just run and hide?
I know it seems easier than it really is
What if the liar once told the truth
Would it destroy yr conception by the skin or yr tooth?

What if yr friends turned out to be fakes
Would you say that you knew or admit yr mistakes?
What if yr friends were lying to you,
Would you see through the reason or think it was true?
I know it seems easier than it really is
What if the liar once told the truth
Would you hear the protesting or destroy the youth?

Lie detector.
