we couldn't stay on the tailgate it started raining so we drove around for a while then passed your house three times i know that you were holdin back somethin cos you turned to me each time an said just drive

so ill follow the yellow line and you can tell me whats on your mind is it trouble with love

or just everyday life
are you cryin yourself
to sleep at night
oh should i ask if you're alright or keep it to myself and just drive the only time i saw you smile we were crossin

the city limit line into the great divide the old truck kept rollin we didn't notice the fading rearview lights of the town we left behind it feels like were on the run but what are you runnin from

solo

oh should i ask if youÂ're alright

just drive
