

Doc Walker "Whoever Made Those Rules"

Visit "Whoever Made Those Rules" on MotoLyrics.com

Good things come to those who wait
And only fools rush in I've let those words guide my way
Time and time again
But nothings etched in stone
And I guess I should have known That whoever made those rules never looked into your eyes
On a moonlit night and who would have thought that I could have found a love this strong can't be wrong
Less is more than I sensed before but now I can't get enough
Baby, you made a fool of whoever made those rules
Some say love will lose its shine once the good wears off
The heat of passion fades with time
They couldn't be more wrong
I knew with just one look
That we would rewrite the book Cuz whoever made those rules never looked into your eyes
On a moonlit night and who would have thought that I could have found a love this strong can't be wrong
Less is more than I sensed before but now I can't get
enough
Baby you made a fool of whoever made those rules
Baby you
Made a fool
Out of who Ever made those rules
[Repeat and Fade]

Visit Doc Walker page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.