Face your dying day, final judgement is passed today
In your cell, cold sweats, no remorse no regrets
For the crimes he'd commit, violent passions reliving it Every breath that was heard was the victim's final word

Another life just passing by, what's on the mind when the convict fries

Trapped in your cell, but it's really a living hell
Final hour it begins, soul crawling under your skin There's a priest at the door, who could ask for any more Speaks your last - Last rights, now you're gone just like the light

There's nowhere for you to run
Living under the gun, praying to god

[Chorus:]

Another life just passing by What's on the mind when the convict fries ?
Such a lovely way to die

Christ comes to call, now's your time to take your fall Start your walk to the chair, hell awaits - You soon be there
Never mind what you see, it's just an offering to thee Tape your eyes - No sight, now your gone just like the light

There's nowhere for you to run
Living under the gun

[Chorus]

I reflect on the chairs of my past
How this one it will be the last
Father, son, holy ghost
Condemn me to hell, where I will roast
Church pew, school desk, waiting rooms, I confess Complications that arise from attempted suicide

So I start a killing spree that led me to this destiny
Noone's left who really cares as I fry in the chair
