Why do I blame myself
For pushing so far away?
I try to tell myself
It's all your fault
You've caused this pain

And I need to find a way
To show you this is all for you
But I sleep another day
Just wishing that you knew

Now that you hate yourself
For things I do, for things I say
You don't know yourself
See through it all everyday

And I need to find a way
To show you this is all for you
But I sleep another day
Just wishing that you knew

I see you watching me
Wondering if it's all for you
Now I have you here
Wondering if it's true

And I need to find a way
To show you this is all for you
But I sleep another day
Just wishing that you knew

And I need to find a way
To show you this is all for you
But I sleep another day
Just wishing that you knew

That you knew
That you knew
