"Why Should I"

No one's home
I am knocking but there's no one to let me in
I've tried before and I'll try again
Can't forget this

Why should I say to you I'm sorry
If you're the one to blame
Why should I tell you I was wrong
When you've turned your back on me?

Blame me for all of my sins
After all I am just human
Survived before and once again
I'm back to feeling nothing

Why should I say to you I'm sorry
If you're the one to blame
Why should I tell you I was wrong
When you've turned your back on me?

I know, I've felt I've changed my ways
You're still the one to blame
I hate these games you always play
Just step away

Why should I say to you I'm sorry
If you're the one to blame
Why should I tell you I was wrong
When you've turned your back on me?

After all, I am just human
