Has time forgotten my face?
Stilled I'm not through
I feel I've myself to blame

I can't escape your name
All of it, my own shame
I feel time moving on

Small words and big motives
All so untrue
And I've nothing left to say

You've taken my words away
Save for another day
When we'll be different now

Time for another way
Suffer my own mistakes
Dream of another day
You'll think different

Why did you go away?
The sun won't come out today
You've taken my world away
Why did you go away?
