"Judgment Day"

Say a prayer, for the day, that you first began all the lies, broken truth, they don't understand mesmerized by the world if they only knew you kept your soul in a place that was safe for you

what will you say
when the angels come for you
what will you say
on judgment day

don't want to live without you you are my world, you are my life don't wanna be without you

touch your heart, take it out, so they all can see now exposed to the fate of your misery I'll sedate all the fears that you say are true now exposed to the ones that don't care for you

what will you say
on judgment day

(solo)

what will you say

(end solo)
