(Dolly Parton)

When your eyes meet mine, my heart beats out of time
And I burn with desire through and through
I can't help myself, I can see no one else
'Cause my eyes can only see you
My eyes can only see you
My eyes can only see you
Your face is always in view
Oh, and my eyes can only see you

I want you so much and I long for your touch
And your eyes tell me you want me too

Oh, it may not be right, but I'm too weak to fight
And my eyes can only see you

My eyes can only see you
My eyes can only see you
Your face is always in view
And my eyes can only see you
And my eyes can only see you
