When your eyes meet mine my heart beats out of time
And I burn with desire through and through I can't help myself I can't see no one else cause my eyes can only see you My eyes can only see you my eyes can only see you Your face is always in view for my eyes can only see you I want you so much and I long for your touch and your eyes tell me you want me

Oh it may not be right but I'm too weak to fight and my eyes can only see you
My eyes can only see you...
And my eyes can only see you
