Momma moved out
Daddy sold the house
They split up the money
And went on their way

And all the king's horses
And all the king's men
Couldn't put Mommy and Daddy
Back together, again

Starting over again
Where should they begin?
'Cause they've never been out on their own

Starting over again
Where do you begin?
When your dreams are all shattered
And the kids are all grown
And the whole world cries

Got an apartment
She moved in with her sisters
He's scheming big deals
With one of his friends

While she sits at home
Just sorting out pieces
Of left over memories
From thirty odd years

Starting over again
Where do you begin?
When you've never been out on your own
Starting over again
Never any end

What will the neighbors say?
They're talking talk, it's small town news

Facing fifty years old
Making up a happy home
And this far down the road

You find yourself alone, two fools

Starting over again
Now, where do you begin?
When you've never been out on your own

Starting over again
Never any end
When your dreams are all shattered
And the kids are all grown

And all the king's horses
And all the king's men
Could never put Mommy and Daddy
Back together

Back together, again
