Wrote a note and you sent it through your best friend
It was cute couldn't give it me in person
Asked me if I would go with you to canters
I said yes though it wasn't to my standards

And though
You're talking to me softly
Can't know
Tomorrow you will call me
And just in case you leave me after all
I'll be saying
I want you now I won't recover
If you're untrue I will remember
It's you I gave
All of myself, nobody else

Later on we were talking and you charmed me
Sign me up I'm enlisting in your army
Swept me off my eyes and under covers
Close to you and I didn't want another

And so to ensure your behavior
You're gonna have to sign a waiver
So since all my doubt has gone away
I won't now or ever will be saying
