She's got a face that rivals Marilyn Monroe
With the lips begging for kissing oozing perfection from her pores
She'd win Miss USA
With the legs that go for miles like an interstate Manicured nails Breath is minty
Never eats right
But she's skinny
If she swallows her make-up
Will it make her pretty on the inside
If I follow her equation
Will I just be pretty on the outside Come on
Her hair is super silky and it shines Wakes up perfect isn't frizzy and she doesn't need a flat iron
Curves like an hourglass
With teeth so f'in bright they'll give you whiplash
Long eyelashes
Skin is sun-kissed
Never catch her With a blemish
Who do you see
Mirrors can lie so don't believe that reflection
Is it plastic or genetic
Just too perfect I don't get it
