Oh! You take the long way home
You slam the door, now you're living all alone
If you fall asleep at the wheel, how will I know?
Will I get a message in the morning that says...
Oh, Hey hey now you're on your own, do do do..
I wish I could take my words back about you
(now you're on your own)
I wanna stretch the sky over you!
(now you're on your own)
Oh, you wait for night to come
To reminice all the days gone wrong
But now the sun is set,
and there is no wrong and right
So pick up your dreams and push the past out of site
Oh, well hey hey - now you're on your own, do do do..
I wish I could take my words back about you
(now you're on your own)
I wanna stretch the sky over you!
(now you're on your own)
