O God Almighty, how could I even sleep?
With the night so young I'd have to struggle just to dream
If we held our breath would it change anything at all?
But I keep turning away, I keep turning away,
until my backs up against a wall
Baby, you rescued me
Let's pretend that the world is all ours
Oh wait... it really is... let's get it straight, uh oh
Baby, you rescued me!
Oh, Oh, now I'd really like to stay
But I'd rather dance away with you, do do do...
Why don't you look as far as you can see?
Tell me who can use their eyes, always wrestling on their knees
To live just to tell, is it worth anything at all?
But I keep doing it, yeah, I'll keep doing it, until my backs up against the wall
Baby, you rescued me!
