Your empty eyes, once filled with life.
You left no note indication that you had gone.
It was you intention for me to find you (yes now) didn't you?
I must admit I'm content with sentiment at this moment.
Today is the rest of my life. I'm glad you're gone.
Today is the rest of my life. I'm glad you're gone.
Your state of mind, frozen in time.
You left a life of vindication and despair.
You left your phone in disconnect now didn't you (yes
now) didn't you?
I must admit I'm content with sentiment at this moment.
Today is the rest of my life. I'm glad you're gone.
Today is the rest of my life. I'm glad you're gone.
Pain is when we seperate/ it's your words that bring me down.
Today is the rest of my life. I'm glad you're gone.
Today is the rest of my life. I'm glas you're gone.
