[I. She has a sad lovely face]

Slowly she moves through the willows
Silent she reaches for the boat
She has a sad lovely face
She is the Lady of Shalott

Sail on

When the mirror is cracking and the white mist surrounds her
All things must go, all things must go
A new journey's beginning to a new way of being but
All things must go, all things must go
She will walk in the sunlight and be free from her burden and
All things must go, all things must go
But it's time to set sails in a mystical journey when all things must go

[II. The portal of infinity...]

The Queen of Light appears
High on the distant shore
And as I breathe my very last second
She parts the darkness with her hand

The spiral passage of Time is moving Silent through the galaxy
And she who controls all our destinies
In her hands she holds the spirits of kings

If I could do it all over again
I guess I would do it just the same
All life is formed and re-formed again
I finally found my Holy Grail, reaching the [chorus]

Portal of Infinity, open wide to let my spirit in Portal of Infinity, take me back to where all life begins
Never to look back, never to feel pain again
Forever to live

Never to look back, never to feel pain again
Forever free

I've finally find my way back home - Infinity
I've finally find my way back home - Eternity
I've finally find my way back home - Infinity
I've finally find my way back home, re-united with myself

[III. ...and Beyond]

Portal of Infinity, open wide to let my spirit in
Portal of Infinity, take me back to where all life begins Portal of Infinity, now I know what I find on the other side
Portal of Infinity, by this blinding light a new legend is born
Never to look back, never to feel pain again,
Forever to live
Never to look back, never to feel pain again
Forever free

I've finally find my way back home - Infinity
I've finally find my way back home - Eternity
I've finally find my way back home - Infinity
I've finally find my way back home, re-united with myself
