Attaining mental stability in a rapid decline
See the souls, they fall in league with mine

Liquid words adhere, to weakness in this spirit
Leading into imprisoning sight, in judgement

And i still feel, i still feel
The same lament with you

And i'm not talking lies fuelled by this bottle
You let me believe
You intrude my conscience
Only to tell me you're what i need

Paralysed, i can't socialise, i'm bleeding within
When it rains, oh god when it pours
Get it done and just take me away

There is no truth in my eyes
A deceiving spinning disguise
Another plain, the ultimate high

Tainted in expression, release the inhibition
Undermining insecure understanding

But i still feel
I still feel
I still feel the same with you

In memories blackened out you release to live again
Through your eyes i'm reminded
What i try to escape from

Just another believer
Easy to lead by their fears
Cannot yet see
Their destiny
