[Spoken:]

Where have you been? What happened out there that night?

I was taken...

Taken?

What do you mean, taken?

I was paralyzed

I could not speak

But only listen

I was not alone

There were six others

Assigned to the mission

We were not bound but

We could not move

While they spoke

Don't look at me that way

This is not a joke

Their eyes were black, a soul they lack

I can't go back, I must complete my task

Don't look at me that way

Their eyes were black, a soul they lack

I can't go back again

They're not from this world

They're from far away

I know it sounds crazy

The other six are poised to strike

Any day now

Trust me when I say

Our days are numbered

My eyes rolled back, my mind went blank

I woke in a tank, they stood above me

They stood above me

They told me the plan
They have for man
We must prepare for a great reckoning

The meek they shall inherit
What is left after the storm
The worst you can imagine
Soon will be the norm
The rising, raging water
The melting of the earth
Will bring us all to the feet
Of the only one of worth

The enemies of god are in the wind
The enemies of god are all who've sinned

So why were we created
If no hope does exist
Day to day in turmoil
We cannot fill their wish
Can we all be merely fodder?
Some great cosmic mistake
There has to be an answer
A different road to take
