stirring at water's edge
cold froth on my twig
my mind in whirls
wanders around desire

may i, can i or have i too often
craving miracles
may i, can i or have i too often now
craving miracles
craving miracles

no one imagines the light shock i need and i'll never know from who's hands deeply humble dangerous gifts as such to mine come may i, should i or have i too often

craving miracles

my romantic gene is dominant and it hungers for union universal intimacy
all embracing

craved miracles
crave

waves irregularly striking wind stern in my face thunderstorm come scrape those barnacles of me!

may i, may i or should i too often crave miracles

all my body parts are one as lightning hits my spine sparkling
prime runs through me
revive my wish inviolable

may i, can i, should i or have i too often
craving miracles
