This mood might not happen often that I feel.
I might breathe heavily, darling,
but there's so much hope,
there is so much hope out there.
I've been trying so hard to complete all the puzzles,
to create a flow
to get the current.
The warmths we all know,
the nurishment
we all want feed on,
we want to feed on.
And then only sometime,
with the right amount tears in our eyes
and smiles on our lips
trance-like.
We know, it all worth it.
We know, it was all for reason.
Let's elevate above now!
