You say life is just an instant, just a bubble in a glass
I say, "Who told you that bullshit?", and you can kiss my ass
Life is long and life is painful, life is full of abstract rules
If I had gotten all I wanted I'd still wanted everything from you
All I wanted was the ocean
All I wanted was the sky
All I wanted was eternity to live and never die
All I wanted was the apple
All I wanted was the tree
All I wanted was my cool electric image on TV
All I wanted was devotion
All I wanted was false pride
All I wanted was obscurity with favor 'till I died
All I wanted was acceptance
All I wanted was pure love
All I wanted was discretion from the angels high above
All I wanted was the laughter
All I wanted were the tears
All I wanted was the question mark of living with my fears
All I wanted was contagious
All I wanted was disease
All I wanted was??? afraid??? by everything I??? didn't read???

So go away, leave the door open, then you go (Feel the moon will pull you under, feel the moon, it's grace to give (Feel the moon)) (Feel the moon will pull you under (Feel the moon) (Feel the moon) feel the water and the wind)
