Any fool can see he's a fool for you
Well, it just might be he don't need you
Every step he takes brings him closer to you
Every sound he makes is, "I love you"

He rubs his belly as the guests come in
He's eating imported caviar
He likes to spend a lot of money on a big weekend
He knows that money don't go to far
He's got everything in the world alright
He's got his heart hanging on his sleeve
He's got a whole lot of trouble in his house tonight
He's got a woman that will not leave
He's got a woman that will not leave

And any fool can see he's a fool for you
Well, it just might be he don't need you
Every step he takes brings him closer to you
Every sound he makes is, "I love you"

He's got a house, it's got thirty rooms
He's got insurance on seven cars
He's drinking thirty dollar whiskey with a silver spoon
He likes drinking from??? mason??? jars
Oh yeah, he will try to buy you if you don't watch out
??? He'll drive a package???, you like pantyhose
He seems to like it when you scream and shout
He never listens, 'cause this is what he thinks he knows
He never listens, 'cause he thinks he knows
Well, any fool can see, he's a fool for you
And it just might be he don't need you
Every step he takes brings him closer to you
Every sound he makes is, "I love you"
Every sound he makes is, "I love you"
Every sound that he makes is, "I love you"
