

Don Francisco

"Too Small A PriceJoy"

Visit "Too Small A PriceJoy" on MotoLyrics.com

I awoke to hear the jailer turn the key and push the door
"Get out here!" he shouted, but I stayed there on the floor Frozen in the terror that rose and filled my brain
For I knew what they intended; I could not face the pain

Then soldier's came into the cell and they dragged me to the yard
They threw me down before a cross and brought the whip down hard
"Carry it!" they shouted as I struggled to my feet
I put my shoulder under it; dragged it to the street

I stumbled through a wall of screams as they drove me through the gate
It seemed that thousands lined the streets, their voices filled with hate
Like a wolf pack in the night that moves in for the kill
They closed the gap and followed us as we started up the hill

And it seemed I'd barely reached the top when they grabbed me from behind
They threw the cross down under me and tied the ropes that bind
The arms close to the beams as they nailed the feet and hands
And they raised the cross up in the air and dropped it in it's stand

Through a blur of pain I saw the cross there next to mine
There were people all around it so I looked to read the sign
It was nailed there up above His head so the world could see the news
That the man who seemed so helpless there was the King of all the Jews

Well, the crowd that stood around His cross made jokes about His name

They shouted, laughed and spat on Him so I joined in the game
Then I said, "Hey! if you're the King why don't You get us down from here?
The taunt just sounded hollow and it echoed in my ears

'Cause He looked at me with eyes that seemed to reach into my heart
They shone a light on all my lies and tore my life apart
There was more that lay behind His gaze than simply blood and clay
But knowing was too much for me; I had to look away

Then I chanced another look at Him as He was looking down
Where the soldiers who'd just crucified us drank there on the ground
And although He spoke them quietly, somehow His words came through
He said, "Father, please forgive them; they don't know what they do."

Then as if they'd heard Him speaking, the crowd began to roar
Whipped to frenzy by the priests who urged them on to more
But the worse the accusations, now, the plainer I could see
The guilt of the accusers -- not the One there next to me

Then the man upon the other cross began to curse and swear
But his voice was filled with venom as he hurled it through the air
When all the horror that was in him, and had laid his life to waste
Came out in every syllable he flung in Jesus' face

And Jesus only looked at him, but something rose inside of me
And in spite of all that watched us there, it couldn't be denied Because His righteousness and innocence were shining bright and strong I just couldn't keep my silence and that cursing still went on

I cried out, "Don't you fear the wrath of God even at the end?
You'll curse us both into the pit -- is that what you intend?

We're only getting what we're due -- we've sinned our whole lives long

But don't you talk to Him that way -- He's done nothing wrong!"

Then with all my courage, in a voice not quite my own I asked Him, "Lord, remember me when you come into your throne."

He answered me and even then, His love was undisguised

He said, "Before the sun has set today, you'll be with Me in Paradise."

Well the shouts and curses did not stop even when the sunlight ceased

But somehow in the midst of it my soul had been released

And though the agony continued, it was still too small a price

To be allowed to hear those words, and to die beside the Christ!

Then darkness changed to dawning

And I heard the sound of voices

The air was warm around me

I stood beside a stream

And Abraham was speaking

To the multitude before him

Of the unfolding of the answer

To our prayers and hopes and dreams

Then far across the chasm,

Came a rumbling like the thunder

And the Prince of Peace came shining

From his mouth the power streamed

And the walls and towers crumbled

And the gates of hell went under

As thousands sang the victory

"We have been redeemed!"

Jesus is the Lord of all!

Jesus is the Lord of all!

Jesus is the Lord of all!

We have been redeemed!

Jesus is the Lord of all!

Jesus is the Lord of all!

Jesus is the Lord of all!

We have been redeemed!

Joy! Joy! Joy! Joy!

Jesus is the Lord of all!

Jesus is the Lord of all!
Jesus is the Lord of all!
We have been redeemed!

Visit Don Francisco page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.