Words & Music by Don McLean

I don't know why I did it. I guess I lost my head.
I should have said "I love you" but used angry words instead.

Chorus:

Angry words, that were so unfair.
Angry words, I should have said "I care".

It's easy to apologize. It's harder to forget.
You made the lovin' easy but I made you so upset.

With angry words, that were so unfair.
Angry words, I should have said "I care".

I've stood right beside you. I've changed in many ways.
I stand here ever faithful but I still have my bad days.

And angry words, can sometimes fly.
Angry words, where once I use to cry.

(Instrumental verse and chorus)

It's easy to apologize. It's harder to forget.
You made the lovin' easy but I made you so upset.

With angry words, that were so unfair.
Angry words, I should have said "I care".

(Angry words, that were so unfair.)
I should have said "I care".
