A long long time ago, i can still remember how that music used to make me smile.

And i knew if i had my chance, i could make those people dance and maybe theyd be happy for a while.

But February made me shiver with every paper Id deliver, bad news on the doorstep. I couldnt take one more step.

I cant remember if i cried when i read about his widowed bride, but something touched me deep inside.

the day the music died

So bye bye miss american pie i took my chevy to the levvy but the levvy was dry
