Some days I seem so far away from where I want to be
And the things that I've accomplished seem so small When I'm weary of the struggle and I feel I can't go
You love me through it all Your love gives me a balance when I'm standing on the edge
You keep me going when my dreams have stalled And you're always building bridges even when I'm building walls
You love me through it all

Sometimes I come home bragging bout the things I've done that day
Like a thing that I'm on top and cannot fall
And when I'm high on my successes thinking only of myself
[guitar]
Through it all you're there to comfort me you keep my feet on solid ground
I know that I can make it as long as you're around Your love gives me a ballance...
