you said i was all you ever needed it was me that kept your spirits high well you're the only one who's ever fooled me you broke my heart without me knowing why woman, you should be in movies acting out some real important parts
instead of breaking real peoples' hearts love felt so alive when i was with you inside me you made a place still warm well, you should win a price for 'way you hurt cos there appears another loser's born
