Ever stopped and listened to the world go round When's the last time you've seen lightning hit the ground
Ever feel like life is one non-stop flight Like you're chasing the moon til the morning light

Awe take your time, don't live so fast
You gotta sing a song, if you wanna make it last
So sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too Just sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too

When's the last time you've floated in the ocean, I saw blue I looked up at the clouds chasing each other, as the wind blew through When's the last time you said hello to a stranger on the street
You know the saying strangers are rangers(?) that would never meet
Awe take your time, don't live so fast
You gotta sing a song, if you wanna make it last
So sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother
and a song for your friends too
Just sing a song for your mother, a song for your
brother and a song for your friends too
Sing and make it last

So sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother
and a song for your friends too
Just sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too (x3)
Sing and make it last
Just sing a song for your mother, a song for your
brother and a song for your friends too (x2)
