I look within yourself I can see truth, love, hate inside of you and me can feel inside of you Feel my flame, your flame That burns inside of you and me And I hope from you I hope honesty, condolence from you and me And I want from you I want trust, no more distrust for you and me to give to receive, you know that, nothing is free. Everything has a price Hard to find a compromise Roads part easily everyone Everyone makes its own way

Brothers tear apart
To feel unique
Friends destroy themselves
Just to end up lonely
Brothers tear apart
To feel unique
Friends destroy themselves
Just to end up lonely

We looked for our common points to find each other in our opposites, we even laid bare ourselves to carry masks.

But there's nothing true anymore everything's stopped,

The story is over
I shall not forget, I've learnt.

I want to live all your experiences.

I want to be with you during the bad days.

And to delight myself in your enjoyments, but Love is a self-sacrifice.

Lovers hate each other

Just to feel free
races kill each other
not to be outcasts anymore
Lovers hate each other
Just to feel free
Even races kill each other
not to be outcasts anymore

Like a double I can see yourself in the mirror I can see truth,love, hate inside of you and me
Close your eyes I know where we're goin' my flame, your flame
That burns inside of you and me
Why do you suddenly go away from me
I hope from you
I hope honesty, condolence
Like a double I can see yourself in the mirror I want trust, no more distrust for you and me

I could not be the reflect of someone else

I could not be the reflect of someone else
I don't wanna love anymore if we are separated
I don't wanna give my friendship to be betrayed
I can't feed my roots anymore my heart has become dry
I could not be the reflect of someone else

Lovers hate each other Brothers tear apart Friends destroy themselves Races kill each other
