I sit by my window
Gazing out into the starry night
If only i have someone with whom to share
Such a lovely sight

Seems ive wished upon every star i see
For someone to come along and be
My one true friend and love
He's all im dreaming of Someone with whom to share whatever life may bring Someone who'll be my joy my strenght my everything

Someone who'll miss me when we're apart
Who's heart i'll own and who'll own my heart
Oh how i hope and pray
He'll find me someday

Where Could he be?
Will i spend a lifetime searching endlessly
For that someone to hold
And call my own
Oh where could he be?
Heaven help him find his way to me

Sometimes i wonder if i'll ever really find him at all
When the time is right will he be there to catch me when i fall
Seems its really only a matter of time
Before he walks into this life of mine
Well waiting is all i can do
Will my dreams ever come true

Repeat Chorus

*heaven help him
Find his way to me....
