The misty fog stretched across the highway
The gentle breeze circling the leaves
The pretty cloud shaped just like a heart
That's Daddy saying hello to me

That time I saw, a bright shooting star
The colored butterflies that glide along the road
The nickel on the ground made the year I left for college
Reminding me he's waiting for me to come home

He's all around me now
He's up there smiling down
He isn't hurting now
I'm gonna make him proud
The flowers in the spring
Red birds on a snowy tree
In my heart I do believe
It's really Daddy..... saying hello to me

The silver rain that danced across my windshield
That crazy bird singing loudly in the tree
His favorite song playing on the radio
That's Daddy saying hello to me

The wind is moving my porch swing today
He must be looking at the tears on my face
His favorite team is playing baseball on tv
I miss my Daddy
Saying hello to me

The leaves are dancing on the sidewalk today
He must be telling me it's gonna be ok
I saw a little boy with blue eyes smiling
Just like Daddy...
I miss my Daddy...
Saying Hello to me
